Associate

Afton Partners is seeking an Associate to lead financial modeling and analysis on consulting engagements in the public education sector. Our associates are key team members who ensure our detailed work results in flawless deliverables.

Afton empowers education leaders with effective financial strategies. Our advisory work is focused on sustainability planning, state and local funding policy, and financial governance. Our clients include state agencies, public school systems, universities, charter schools, and education philanthropies.

The Associate will work on consulting teams to understand our clients' objectives, supervise, and work alongside analysts, and work independently to research, structure, create, and deliver high-quality financial models and analyses. The Associate must be comfortable working with large data sets to build robust and dynamic scenario models in MS Excel, craft strategic financial plans and reports, and create clean presentations that help clients answer their pressing questions and find innovative solutions. Most importantly, the Associate will be part of making meaningful impact at the state and local level for children and families.

This is a full-time position with geographic flexibility, remote work option, requiring up to 25% travel, and offering competitive pay and benefits, including health insurance, paid time off, and 401(k) with company match.

Qualifications

- Advanced proficiency in Microsoft Excel and PowerPoint
- 2+ years of experience in relevant fields (such as management consulting, corporate finance, investment banking, or public policy)
- Degree in Finance, Accounting, or a similar field
- Strong analytical, interpersonal, organizational, and communication skills
- Interest in being part of work that meaningfully impacts society

Afton Partners

Afton Partners is a team of financial and analytical minds dedicated to improving America's public schools. As one of the most recognized and respected names in public education finance, we work with some of the largest school systems and state agencies across the country, some of the most innovative charter schools, and some of the most well-known education philanthropies.

We foster a collegial, team-based environment that will allow you to contribute from Day One. As a small team with a passion for education and funding policy that ensures equity for all children, with a particular focus on racial equity, we approach each project as an opportunity to make a lasting impact on America's schools and its communities. We are committed to everyone's development and encourage our team members to be active members of their community.
